DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's amendment and request for reconsideration filed 8/17/07 is acknowledged and the amendment is entered.

Claims 1-8, 10-12, 15, and newly added claims 17-20 are currently pending and under consideration.

Applicant's arguments in response to the previous Office action filed 8/17/07 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be fully persuasive. The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated from the previous Office action or newly applied but necessitated by applicant's amendments, and constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application. Rejections and/or objections set forth in the previous Office action but not reiterated herein are hereby withdrawn.

Claim Rejections-35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Art Unit: 1631

Newly added claims 17-20 recite “the calibrating probes hybridize to almost all of the target molecules in sample solutions” (as in claims 17 and 19) or “the calibrating probes hybridize to all of the target molecules in sample solutions” (as in claims 18 and 20).

The specification does not provide adequate description for these new limitations, i.e. the calibrating probes hybridizing to all or almost all of the target molecules. As a matter of fact, the specification repeatedly stress that the calibrating probes hybridize to “large fractions of target molecules” first on page 16, then on page 22 and also on page 27. The term large fraction is a relative term which could include any fractions that are relatively large, such as 20%, 40%. Thus, the specification does not specifically and adequately describe that the calibrating probes hybridize to all or almost all of the target molecules. Therefore, one skilled in the relevant art would have reasonable doubt that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1-8, 10-12, 15, and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1 and 10 are amended to recite “calibrating probes that hybridize under stringent conditions to a large fraction of target molecules in sample solutions” in lines 3-5. The term “large fraction” is a relative term that renders the claim indefinite. The term is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Without such a clear standard, one skilled in the art would not know whether a particular fraction, such as 15% or 30% is a large or small fraction.

Newly added claims 17 and 19 recite "the calibrating probes hybridize to almost all of the target molecules in sample solutions." The term "almost all of the target molecules" is a relative term that renders the claim indefinite. The term is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. Without such a clear standard, one skilled in the art would not know whether a particular hybridization, such as probes having hybridized to 95% of the target molecules, should be considered as having hybridized to almost all of the target molecules.

Conclusion

No claim is allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicants are reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 C.F.R. §1.136 (a). A shortened statutory period for response to this final action is set to expire three months from the date of this action. In the event a first response is filed within two months of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the three-month shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 C.F.R. §1.136 (a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than six months from the mailing date of this final action.
